editor's message....

There is a group or caste of people in India called the Dalit, roughly translated in English as “the untouchable”. For more than three thousand years, these people have been treated like an unwanted plague. Everyday the Dalit women go to their local well to get water for their families. However, being untouchable, they are not permitted to raise the water from the well. Rather, they must depend upon others to bring the water to the surface. Many times that does not happen. If the Dalit women attempt to raise the water for their use, they are beaten or killed for “polluting” the community water source. How would you like to go through that everyday?

We often don't realize how good we have it here in America. Each one of your lives is filled with such potential and such luxury that much of the world's population would be amazed with what you have.

The God that I've gotten to know while a student here wants us to go and share the living water of Christ's love throughout the world. Whether it is helping the Dalit draw water, teaching in Vacation Bible School, saying a kind word to a freshman, or preaching to people who have never heard Jesus' name in Africa, this is our job. This is my message to you, and though it's unrelated to this yearbook, it's important! Think about it.

I will always remember how much fun my time at Fletcher Academy has been. I've enjoyed plenty over these last four years. Students, teachers, activities, mission trips, it's been one grand experience that I will never forget.

I tried to make this yearbook one large “memory” for you. I tried to capture moments, places and people, in an off center abstract sort of way. There are some things you will never forget, but for everything else, there is this yearbook – I Will Always Remember.

Until next time,

Andrew M. Shaw
Yearbook Editor 2004-2005, 2002-2003

The Lelia Patterson Center

The Lelia Patterson Center (LPC) opened its doors on May 23, 2004. Since its opening, the LPC provided a top-of-the-line exercise complex to an area and a school that was in desperate need. In addition to recreation, the LPC was also used to host Bible seminars, Christian events and concerts, & even to screen Christian themed movies. On September 11, a new documentary about Desmond Doss directed by Terry Benedict, "The Conscientious Objector", was shown free to the public to honor one of our great war heroes. In addition to the amazing outreach opportunities the Center provides, the student body has also been blessed with its opening. Many students took the initiative set by their classmates to get in shape, and incorporate exercise into their daily life.

Dorm Life

In the Girls' Dorm, Ms. Melanie Stroud and Ms. Eva Iguaran took over the jobs of Girls' Dean and Assistant Girls' Dean. In the Boys Dorm we have Mr. Phillip Milmine as dean along with Mr. Greg Lindquist & Mr. Bill Bass as Assistants . It was also a big surprise for the boys when they came back for school, to find that the Boys Dorm had been completely remodeled. New beds, along with new furniture were installed throughout the dorm.

Dorm life at Fletcher Academy provides a supportive atmosphere that enables both the boys and girls to form lasting friendships with the other students, the deans, and most importantly, Jesus Christ.

Around Classes

With plenty of new students, 2 new teachers, 2 new deans, & 2 new classes, Fletcher Academy was ready to start out the 2004-2005 school year. Perhaps the most significant change in the academic year was the addition of Spanish being taught in the place of French from this year forward. Students were also given the opportunity to take a Bible elective that versed the students in evangelism outreach, Mission work, and Scripture. An extra focus was also placed on the spiritual atmosphere of Fletcher Academy, with spiritual emphasis weekends, vespers, worships, & testimonies being planned throughout the school year.

The Work Areas

FA's work program changed this year with the addition of the Lelia Patterson Center to FA's campus. And, for the first time, academic credit was given in conjunction with the student's participation in the work program. Fletcher has many job opportunities available for the students. Although the jobs may not always be easy or one's idea of fun, they do provide the students with valuable work experience that will be useful later in life.

Many students enjoy their jobs here at Fletcher. Here's what Olivia has to say about working at Park Ridge Living Center, "I enjoy working at PRLC because I get to take care of the Elderly. I love to hear the stories they tell you about their childhood, and their experiences through life."

Not quite ready to play themselves, Brooke & Jake are just two of the many spectators of the game.

You could always count on Rec each day to not only promote a healthy competitive atmosphere, but also provide some great fun, energy-draining exercise, and giving plenty of great memories out for all. The Lelia Patterson Center also provided another place for all to exercise, holding two basketball courts, a volleyball court, a pool, and a workout room.

Agape Feast

On the first Friday night of the school year, the student body was invited to participate in an Agape Feast Ceremony. Students had the opportunity to have their feet washed by a faculty member, along with seeing the testimony of Christ through the service. Many students not only came, but also participated in the event, which was a blessing.

After the event, the SA officers served root beer floats outside.

Sabbath at the Pinkbeds at Fletcher Academy, is a tradition that took the place of "Sabbath in the Smokies", a few years back. Every year, the school takes the entire student body up to the Pinkbeds, in Pisgah National Forest. The day brings spiritual testimony and blessing from Faculty & Students alike, while also giving students the chance to reacquaint themselves with each other, and catch up on what everyone did during the past summer. After the church service and lunch, this year the students left to travel up to Graveyard Fields, which, unexpectedly led to a water fight and a "jumping off the rocks into the water" contest, which left most everyone wet.

Alumni Weekend

Homecoming 2004 was the first Alumni Weekend to be held at the Lelia Patterson Center. Being able to have the events in the facility was something that many alumni had dreamed about for years. When the Alumni arrived on campus, they were not only greeted by a campus that looks better than it has in a very long time, but also a beautiful, bustling center that was now a "landmark" on campus. This was one of FA's most successful Homecomings yet, with a record number of alumni showing up for Saturday's meeting. As always, alumni sponsored scholarships were handed out to different FA students during the church service, with the highest award of $2000 given to Kim Davis.

SA Fall Picnic

Hurricanes Frances & Ivan postponed the Fall Picnic for the first time in recent memory, until mid-October, which provided for a frigid, but refreshingly brisk atmosphere. Once the Seniors lit up Strawberry Hill with something that burns very quickly, everyone miraculously was much warmer and stayed that way through the night and into the next day.

This year's picnic was filled with many surprises. Not only did the sophomores win the 5K, but they also took the title of 1st overall. This left some classes very disappointed, but others (the pink ones) were exuberantly happy. Although the Seniors took a not too distant 3rd place, they swept the pyrotechnics division of the competition, clearly beating out each and every senior class of the last 10 years here at FA, with a brilliant and long lasting display of fiery class spirit.

Hurricanes Attack!

On September 9, Hurricane Ivan bullied its way into Western North Carolina, dropping between 10 and 20 inches of rain, causing significant flooding throughout the region.

The historic Biltmore Village in Asheville was especially hard hit. More than eight feet of water ran through the streets of this shopping area, destroying many local businesses.

Just one week later, on the night of September 16th, the winds of Hurricane Ivan ripped through Henderson County resulting in thousands of downed trees and power outages throughout the area, including Fletcher Academy.

SA Harvest Party

The night of October 30 brought an event full of surprises, and plenty of fun, as the Student Association held its' annual Harvest Party. The SA Officers spent the previous week decorating the old gym, transforming it (with the help of a fog machine and lots of leaves and sticks), into The Woods, which was this year's theme. If you were brave enough, you had the chance to go through the cave of adventure that was filled with cobwebs, creatures from the outdoors and other various slimy and gross substances. Other events included the Donut Dangle, Twister, a Balloon contest and at the end of the evening, an old movie. One of the most creative Harvest Parties in recent year, The Woods, won't soon be forgotten.

The Boys Club Banquet

For this year's Boys Club Banquet, attendees were off to Hawaii for a luau that was like none other. Well, actually we just went over to Fletcher Park Inn's dining room, but everyone was greeted with a fresh lei and a transformed tropical paradise. The tables were creatively set up Hawaiian style, with a selection of Mr. Gerst's Hawaiian music playing in the background. Perhaps the biggest hit of the night was the Smoothie Shack, which was manned by Zeus, Luis, David, and Ceeo who all created some excellent drinks! Some great Hawaiian food, Hawaiian word contests, Hula dancing, hula hooping, and some Hawaiian limboing all took place around a giant volcano that commanded the room. Hawaii was well attended that night and will be remembered by all quite fondly, even after a jolting start.

The Girls Dorm Open House

The girls dorm swung open its doors to both Girls and Guys for its Open House. It's not every day that guys are allowed into this forbidden place, so when they finally are (which is once every two years) they just simply don't know what to do with themselves! These pictures will reflect this statement. Set right before the Boys Club Banquet, the Hawaiian theme was carried over to the girls dorm with flowers, fish, and grass skirts everywhere. Girls dean Ms. Stroud was in the background coordinating it all, along with periodically checking in on everyone to make sure everything was going as planned. Indeed it was a great experience, and a fitting prelude to the Hawaiian themed banquet.

SA Christmas Party

Sleigh bells ring, are you listening? It's cold outside, can you feel it? We're just at Fletcher Academy, walking in a "Winter Wonderland", or at least that was the theme for this year's SA Christmas Party. A chilly Christmas tree lighting took place this year in the new gazebo, where a much more manageable 9-foot Fraser fir was lit by SA President Sarah. SA Pastor Kristin gave the worship, while SA VP Andrew shared his insight on why SA does the Christmas tree Lighting every year. After the lighting was complete, everyone hurried over to the LPC for the annual SA Christmas Party. The smell of great food, along with an elegant holiday setting greeted each and everyone, and if that weren't enough to make any students' weekend, Santa Claus showed up for pictures before the supper. After a sensational dessert course, students watched and enjoyed a Christmas documentary, entitled "ELF".

Christmas Concert - "Come Unto Him"

The Holiday season wouldn't be the same without FA's annual Christmas Concert, this year themed, "Come Unto Him". Under the direction of Mr. Lindquist, the Band & Choir performed great renditions of many holiday favorites, both sacred & secular. For the first year, AcTs II joined the concert, performing some crowd favorites from their repertoire, along with some new ones. Many LPC members, along with others from the community came to hear the concert, which provided for a very special and packed evening.

SA Winter Olympics

The SA Winter Olympics expanded its event roster this year to include Swimming, something that proved to be unexpected, and unwelcome among classes. The final events of the night, Swimming caused classes to scramble to find people to swim, with only the Junior & Senior classes in the end managing to find people to swim. The Lelia Patterson Center played host to the event, a Winter Olympics first. Although a little long, the night still offered plenty of fun and games, with the Juniors taking 1st overall, and the Seniors taking 2nd. Interestingly enough, No one class had any majority of the SA victories this year with the seniors, juniors, and sophomores each winning one.

ABOVE Sponsors and patrons observed in awe at how fast the students were going. Jump Rope winner Zeus Choi also took the prize for Pushups, with a score of 69.

ABOVE Because of the venue change, new events were now possible in the Winter Olympics, Swimming included. It's going to take awhile to catch on though! Only the junior & senior classes entered swimmers into the Girl's competition. In all swimming events, the Juniors claimed victory.

Operation Christmas Child

The Bible Elective class had the opportunity this year to work with students of Captain Gilmer and Fletcher Academy on the Operation Christmas Child (OCC) program. Students from both schools were encouraged to bring in a shoebox full of toys and other essentials for less fortunate children around the world. The response was impressive, and in December, Mr. Bass took the Bible Elective class to a national distribution center for OCC, in Boone, NC. Reverend Franklin Graham was on hand the day that the students went to Boone, to dedicate the new facility. Everyone spent the day readying the boxes for shipment, which turned out to be very complex process. Different from local community service projects, Operation Christmas Child has worldwide effects!

The Principals Message

As you look through the pages of this book I hope it will bring back fond memories of your year here. While I would like to think you will remember all the fantastic lectures and power point presentations from your teachers, I realize you will more likely remember the trips taken, ankles sprained, bones broken, friends made and the many adventures you had here at Fletcher Academy. I hope you will also remember this as a year you grew to know Jesus a little better. Make Him your first priority in all you do and we will be able to have a grand reunion in heaven. May the Lord bless you in all you do.

Each senior will have a different version of the events that happened during the Senior Survival long weekend, but a few things are for sure. We will never look at copperheads, spiders, mexican food, Wal-Mart, brown sugar, or thousands of gallons of water being thrown in your cabin at lightning fast speeds the same way again. During the time we camped in the hills, we as a class were challenged to overcome personal boundaries, which previously we may have deemed impossible. I would go into more detail, but that would take all of the fun out of it for everyone when his or her turn comes, and yes you WILL go to Georgia!!! I invite you to take a good look at the captionless pictures and see for yourself if you can figure out the trials and obstacles my class faced while in Georgia. In the end, besides a select few Seniors being served, the one thing everyone will remember is the terrific hookup we got thanks to Mr. Johnson and SAU, which can be summed up in two words. Don LoLo's.

The Seniors: Senior Presentation

Class of 2005

On September 25, the senior class of 2005 welcomed all family, friends, faculty, and other students of Fletcher Academy to the very special Senior Presentation in the Academy's Chapel. Senior Class President Jeff Owen introduced the rest of the officers and presented the Class of 2005 to those in attendance. Mr. Milmine provided the worship for the evening, and afterwards everyone made his or her way over to the Lelia Patterson Center for the first annual Fall Show.

The Seniors: Strawberry Hill

Year to year comparison....

For years now, FA Seniors have made Strawberry Hill their special place. Just minutes after graduation last spring, this year's seniors began the Hill's transformation to '05. Undaunted by a sudden rainstorm, the class worked until Strawberry Hill proclaimed its' new year - '05! Thanks to the pyrotechnical skills of senior Chris Carney, this year's lighting of Strawberry Hill at the Fall Picnic was spectacular.

Acroknights

Every year in gymnastics, there is a new cast of characters. This year we have added a lot of new members to the team. I have been blessed this year to have assistant coaches. Natasha Root, and Betty Neacsu have added a tremendous amount of knowledge and dedication in helping our team. I have also been blessed with great captains. Dylan McClung & Tasha Ericson are the only 4 year members and they also are the only two on the team who have been on the team the entire time I have been coach. Needless to say after all that times together, we know how each other think, which makes a difference. Thank you Acroknights for a great year. I hope you have been blessed as much as I have. Remember practices, Acrofest, Day shows, laughing during skits, Altitude games, Home show, friends, and bus trips.

When you work as a team, anything can happen.

Thanks for a great year.

AcTs 2 Drama showcases through skits the love of Jesus and the power of prayer. Drama had the great privilege to have the help of Mr. Hadley in direction this year, who brought years of stage experience, and a fresh outlook on things which revitalized the team. Many people have been greatly blessed by Drama's ministry, in the school, in the community, and throughout the world.

President's Message:

As SA President, it's my job to uphold school spirit, help plan fun and memorable events, represent the student body, and finally, be a friend to all. I soon found out that only one person couldn't do these duties. With the help of God and my ever-faithful SA officers and friends, I think that all of these expectations of SA were exceeded this year. Your SA Officers have worked hard to "do some good" for the school, planning many fun events, and working hard in the Senate to make your life here at FA more enjoyable and fulfilling. Don't forget though, none of this could have been done without my dependable SA Officers. Vice President, Andrew Shaw, was always ever present and always did more than he was required to do and has been invaluable to this school. Also, there is Merrie Hildebrand, Secretary, who always brought a positive can-do attitude, and a creative mind to our meetings. Andrew Eszler, Parliamentarian, deserves my thanks for his commitment to SA and Casey Herbert, Treasurer, for her fun attitude. Finally, there was Ketyl Acary, our PR guru, who always used her stylish and ingenious ideas to promote the events. Later in the year we had the privilege to add Kristin Eszler as Pastor, who showed her spiritual strength and leadership in the school, and Vicky Moore, Rec. Coordinator, who always offered her helpfulness when I needed it.

Each SA member brought their best to the table, and with so many talents, we had endless possibilities to work with during the late night planning sessions. A special thanks is due for Mrs. Merle Hildebrand, and Mrs. Debbie Shaw. Their kindness, creativity, and time helped us immensely. Their contributions to the SA were innumerable. To end this, I just want to say thank you to the students for giving me a chance to be your President. Remember to keep God First!

Love always,

H.O.P.E., the Hands of Praise Ensemble, has had a wonderful year. We have performed with Selah and Mark Lowry at the Lelia Patterson Center, and we signed Selah's "You Raise Me Up" on Fletcher Academy's float in the Henderson County Apple Festival Parade. We have a wonderful time and enjoy the opportunities we are given to praise God's name in word, song, and sign.

Fletcher Academy
2005

I cannot begin to thank my yearbook staff enough for their hard work this year. Many pictures inhabit the pages of this book, and NO they just didn't "appear" out of nowhere. Dependability & quality are something that yearbook editor's need from their staff, and they all had that.

David Hernandez

Dear David,

We are so proud of you, David, for all you have accomplished. You have always showed determination and perseverance. Continue to let the Lord lead you in your life and may all your goals and dreams come true.

Love,

Mom & Dad

Tasha Ericson

Dear Tashy,

How can it be that this milestone in your life and ours has come so quickly? We know that your Senior year is what you have been waiting and working for, ever since you started academy. Yet, are we ready for our strawberry blond, middle daughter to fly? Look how you've blossomed!

We are honored to have you as our daughter. Always independent, you always make up your mind and stick with it! We see so much potential in you as well as the talents that already show through. Thank you for being someone we can depend on. You are hard working, loyal, and quite creative.

We hope you will use your strength in such a way that you bring honor to God. With His help, we know you will reveal that. Your Mother and Dad are blessed by you and we love you so much!

Love,

Mom & Dad

To: Tasha
Hey sissy: Congratulations!
I am so proud of you!
I love you lots!
Talia

Merrie Hildebrand

Congratulations Merrie!

On Guam, you were born
during a typhoon storm.

Your infant tears
soon led to conquered fears.

While careful to proceed
you were sure to succeed!

Always friendly and caring
you became generous and sharing.
While serious at school
you never forgot the Golden Rule.

Thank you Merrie, for bringing joy, love, and respect to your school, home and work.

We hope we have been able to give you the love, protection, and Christian education to help you develop a curiosity and love of learning, trust in others--especially in God and the courage to take on whatever challenges life brings!

May the peace of God which passes all understanding, and the knowledge and friendship of His Son be with you always. This is our prayer.

With deepest love and affection,

Your Mom and Dad

Olivia Sawyers

Dear Olivia .... alias Birdie,

God gave us a wonderful gift when He allowed us to share in your life. A parent couldn't ask for a better daughter than you. You brighten our home with your sweet, unconditional love. You have always been a reasonable person and we could talk through problems and come up with solutions. You have faced difficulties in life with strength and determination. You are a leader Olivia, and have shown maturity beyond your years.

As you leave Fletcher Academy, your life will begin a new chapter. You will be on a journey to educate yourself in a profession that you will enjoy and one day be able to support yourself. We know that you will continue to make good choices of wonderful friends. You will also meet the person you will share your life with.

Thru all the decisions continue to pray for God's guidance. Always remember to keep Christ first in your life and God will use your strength to serve others as you continue to gain your strength from Him.

Our Love Forever,

Mom & Jeff

Andrew Shaw

Dear Andrew,

Only yesterday, it seems, we brought you home from the hospital, our little boy, our gift from God. What a special day that was!

We remember your first day of first grade, and how big you seemed then. Before long, it was eighth grade graduation with your friends from Upward. And now you are a Senior, Class of '05, no less!

We have watched you grow into the handsome young man that you are today. We appreciate your willingness to serve others whether at the Manna Food Bank or in Punta Negra! We are proud of the success that you have had so far and look forward to see how God will next lead in your life.

Always remember, never forget, God loves you! Let him lead in your life to His service, wherever that may be on this world!

We love you!

Mom and Dad

Jeffrey Owen

Dear Jeffrey,

We are very proud of you. We know you would have preferred to play football or basketball or anything as long as it was play, but you have worked hard and accomplished much. We are proud of the way you have led your class as President over the past two years. We are proud of your athletic abilities in gymnastics, football and basketball. We are proud of your scholastic achievements. Please continue to keep Jesus 1st in your life. Remember that your family will always love you and be there for you.

Love,
Mom, Dad and James

Dylan McClung

Dear Dylan,
Here you are at the end of your high school years. Soon you'll be heading off to college, to begin a new phase in your life's journey. There will be many challenges to meet. We know you can handle whatever comes your way because you have God as your guide. Keep your eyes on Jesus and He will certainly lead you in the best path.

You have grown to be a fine young man, Dylan, and you have made us very proud! You are such a blessing to us. And always remember...when your hair becomes the color of snow, and your own children tower over you, you will still be our baby boy!
May God continue to bless you,
We love you, son - Mom & Dad

Chris Carney

Dear Chris,

It is hard to believe you are 18 and graduating from high school. You have been such a blessing to your Dad and me. It is exciting to see how the Lord had worked in your life and has blessed you tremendously in your business. We pray that you will always put the Lord first in your life, and continue to witness to all you come in contact with.

Love,
Mom & Dad

Kristin Eszler

Dear Kristin,

The years have surely flown by. Our little blond sweetheart is now graduating from high school. We are so proud of you and will always treasure our memories of you as a little girl and also as a young woman. You have been such a blessing in our home.

As you begin a new chapter in your life remember to take God with you. Don't forget we love you with all our hearts and are always here for you.

Love,
Mom & Dad

The Second semester always sees new faces around the campus, but unfortunately due to the early completion of this publication (mid-January), these people will barely be seen past this page. In addition to three new students, Fletcher also welcomed Mrs. Ruth Camps as Girls Dean and ESL + Spanish. If some of these students are your friends, don't worry there will be plenty of pictures of them in the supplement.

This is an index for most of the pictures in this yearbook. Obviously these are not all of the pictures you can find through the preceding 108 pages, we're not going to do all the work for you, because finding yourself in the book is half the fun. Regardless, this will give you a pretty good idea. Some were "photo'd" more than others, so if you don't see yourself in here than much, just get in front of the camera more next year, (a very easy way to guarantee page placement) or apply to be the editor of next years' book and put yourself on as many pages as you want. If your goal was to stay out of the book, I wouldn't brag to loudly, because after all there is a 16 page supplement.....

We all know that teachers don't teach for the money. Genuine teachers do their job because they have a genuine interest in educating the students, the leaders and workers of tomorrow.

In addition to teaching Bible classes, Mr. Gerst also has been FA's chaplain for a year (2002-2003), Director of ACTS 2 Drama, (2002-2005), along with teaching PE and Science classes in his spare time.

I will always remember how Mr. Gerst would always come up and comfort students if he felt they were having a bad day. The Seniors remember how after everyone's birthday their Freshmen year he would always bring the entire class doughnuts.

Even though we will always remember that his tests were longer than any others, he will be equally remembered as a faculty member who truly cared to his core about what he did, and how he served his Lord.

I hope that Fletcher Academy will continue to be blessed by Mr. Gerst's ministry, both in Drama and in the classroom. With that, it is our great pleasure to dedicate this yearbook to Mr. Craig Gerst, teacher, mentor, and friend.

Senior Class Trip - Panama

In January, the Seniors traveled to Las Tablas, Panama for their Senior Class Trip. Unlike many classes before them, the Seniors decided that, instead of going to Disney World or some other place that would bring temporary pleasure, they would go on a mission trip instead. With the help of Jeff & Sara Wilkie, David & Debbie McDonald, Dr. Steve Hildebrand, & Bill Bass, the Seniors spent a little under two weeks in Las Tablas, being of service to others.

Most of the guys and Jacqui worked on building the church that Mr. Wilkie has been working on, while most of the girls and David held an English Language school for all ages, and helped plan several outreach ministry activities. It was a time that brought the Seniors even closer, helping them realize what was really important in their lives.

Some of the Senior guys couldn't resist posing when this opportunity came up. Although a cool breeze graced the sandy beaches, the Sun was silently beating down, burning everyone it came in contact with.

SA Valentines Banquet

The Kenmure Clubhouse played home to the annual Student Association Valentines Banquet in February. Students from Fletcher Academy packed the room in preparation for what was to be a memorable event. The acoustical guitarist added a nice touch to the already elegant evening. After a delicious meal, and some jokes told by the night's emcee, Mr. Grove, everyone turned their attention to the movie screen where Napoleon Dynamite was shown. Over the next 1.5 hours, Napoleon made most men in attendance envious at how many "skills" he had, and how good with the ladies he was.

FA On the Road

It is not necessary to say that the touring that plays an integral part of most of our campus groups is by far the most enjoyable part of the year. Performance after performance, city after city, it never stops until the last day. Many memories were made, especially for the Acroknights who decided to do their "drug skit" in both a truck stop and in the front of a McDonalds. There were definitely mixed results.

On a rainy Sunday this past Spring, Juniors & Seniors alike gathered in front of the Ad Building in great anticipation of this years' Junior/Senior Banquet, held at the Broadmoor Golf Club. ## Homeshows Homeshows are always a great time of year for the members involved in all of Fletcher's campus groups. After months of hard work and preparation, the students are finally able to show off all that they have learned. Fletcher's homeshows are always well attended, as was the case this year. An exceptional show was first given by the Acroknights, showcasing 3 team routines, several skits, and a fantastic Girls Trio & Pairs Routine. Acts 2 Drama also impressed the crowds this year with the moving performance of the full length play "Snapshots & Portraits". The choir, band, and 11th Hour also gave a memorable Spring Concert as well, performing both religious & secular selections.

Ania surprised many with her rousing rendition of an overbearing Senior figure in the play. Many Drama members played more than one part in the production.

Graduation Weekend

After four long years, the '05 Senior Class realized that it was all coming to an end. All of the friendships, knowledge, trips & experiences would all become memories that would fade over time. The 17 graduating Seniors have different plans, different hopes, and have different expectations as to their life ahead; but one thing was sure, the Seniors would never forget each other. So for three more days, they had the opportunity to stay together, immersing themselves in the memories made over the past four years, and finally, saying goodbye to it all. Craig Johnson, Ernie Reynolds, & Jim Ingersoll were the weekend's speakers. Surprisingly, each speaker kept their address short and to the point, giving every Senior ideals and goals to live by in their upcoming lives. So as this chapter closes in FA history, may you always remember, never forget, how great this past school year really was. Revolution out. - Andrew Shaw
